One Killed, 13 Hurt In Blast

Zanesville Plant Heavily Damaged

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—One of 14 persons injured in an industrial explosion here died today.

The explosion, which occurred Friday when accumulated gas ignited during an iron ore melting process at the Burnham Boiler Corp. plant, caused an estimated half-million dollars damage.

Basis Greenlaw, 63, a vice president of the parent Burnham Corp. at Irvington, N. Y., and supervisor for plants at Zanesville and Lancaster, Pa., died today of injuries received in Friday afternoon's explosion.

Still in critical condition are Lloyd Welch, plant engineer; William R. Wyatt, 37, assistant plant engineer, and two workmen, William Barber, 42, and Frank Harvey, 40. All, including Greenlaw, are from the Zanesville area.

Of the other nine injured, six were admitted to hospitals and three were released after treatment.

Greenlaw and the plant engineers were watching a so-called "bottoming out" operation, wherein hot coke is removed from the iron ore furnace.

When the explosion hit, it crumpled a 100-foot sheet metal smokestack and tore a hole the length of three boxcars in the block-long building.

Fire followed but was quickly controlled.

About 40 men were in the barn-shaped building. Twenty were in the vicinity of the explosion, the force of which blew out windows in homes several hundred feet from the plant.

Plant Manager J. A. Hanven, who estimated the damage, said operations will be suspended until repairs can be made. The plant employs 200 in the manufacture of heating equipment.

Liz Taylor Seriously Ill of Pneumonia

LONDON (AP)—Movie actress Elizabeth Taylor came down with pneumonia today and her doctor described her condition as serious.

The film star, 29, was placed in an oxygen tent in her suite at a downtown luxury hotel.

Her physician, Dr. Carl Heinz Goldman, was summoned to the hotel at 4:30 a. m. and immediately called for an oxygen tent and the assistance of two other doctors.

Dr. Goldman said Miss Taylor's lungs were severely congested with a staphylococcus infection. She had a temperature of 103 degrees.

"She is very seriously ill," Dr. Goldman said.

Slayer of 3 Women Gets Life In Prison

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—A Circuit Court jury has found Chester (Rocky) Weger guilty of one of the Starved Rock State Park murders and imposed life imprisonment as his punishment.

The verdict was announced late Friday Weger, who had been confident he would be acquitted, took the decision calmly. He sat with hands folded in his lap, his head tilted and face expressionless.

2 Plead Innocent In Bank Holdups

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mike John Koury, 43, and Miss Beverly Ruth Osborne, 26, both of Canton, pleaded innocent Friday when arraigned in U. S. District Court on charges of participating in three armed bank robberies in 1959.

Judge James C. Connell set trial for April 10 and continued bonds of $35,000 each.

The indictment listed the robberies and amounts taken as: Highland Park Center Branch of the Commercial Banking & Trust Co., Wooster, April 23, 1959, $41,510; County Fair Branch of The Citizens Savings Association, Canton, Jan. 24, 1959, $13,108; and the South Arlington Branch of The Akron Savings & Loan Association, April 3, 1959, $6,976.

Louise and Miss Osborne are charged with being members of a gang that planned and executed the robberies.

Civil War Tide Running Against U.S. In Laos

New Warning To Russia Pondered By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tide of civil war in Laos is beginning to run dangerously against American efforts to unify and neutralize that Southeast Asian country.

Worried Kennedy administration officials are now trying to figure out new moves this country or its allies can make to achieve a military stalemate and provide a fresh basis for diplomatic negotiations.

Hope To Avoid Showdown.
Officials hope to avoid a military showdown with the Soviet Union in Laos, but increasingly it is being said privately by authorities here that the United States will never allow the Communist conquest of Laos which would endanger all of Southeast Asia.

Unless the situation can be improved from the Western point of view in the next two or three weeks, the United States will have to take a much stronger position than it has so far in trying to bring the civil war under control, responsible authorities say.

One possible action under consideration is to give the Soviet government a new warning of the seriousness of American intentions not to settle for anything less than a neutralized Laos.

To Explain Crisis
U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who returned to Moscow from Washington early this week, is expected to explore the Laotian crisis with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as soon as possible.

The worsening of the situation in Laos, as evaluated in official quarters here, is due to a heavy inflow of Soviet weapons and Communist military technicians from North Viet Nam.

A Soviet airlift to the rebels in the northern and eastern parts of the country has been delivering tons of weapons and ammunition including artillery for almost three months.

Truck convoys from North Viet Nam have also been delivering Soviet weapons. The total amount of supplies the rebels have received since December is estimated at 4,000 tons or more.

Buildup Gives Reds Edge
This buildup for an estimated force of 2,000 Communist and pro-Communist troops, officials here said, has given the Reds a slight edge in military resources over the royal Lao army operating under the government of Premier Boun Oum.

The Reds have taken possession of about a third of the country. It is in the sense of increased military power and extensive territorial control that the situation is beginning to go against American aims.

Blood taken is credited to the blood banks at Salem City Hospital and Salem Central Clinic, and is available to area patients without charge except for administration.

Mrs. Jayne Calhoun is general coordinator for the Bloodmobile visit. Mrs. Ruth Kauffman again heads the recruitment division. She will be assisted by Mrs. Russell Shaw, Mrs. Donald Lewis and Mrs. William Bergert.

Mrs. William Kessler is the scheduling chairman, and Mrs. Julien Jones is in charge of assigning doctors and nurses.

The Lisbon community made the bloodmobile's 125-pint quota on both visits last year—126 pints in the spring and 131 pints in September.

Freed Fliers Tell of Air Fight With Attacking Russian Jet

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The story of two cold war heroes, Capt. John R. McKone and Freeman B. Olmstead, raised new questions today about the fate of three fellow crewmen missing since their RB47 reconnaissance bomber was shot down by the Soviets last July 1.

Answering questions publicly for the first time since their return from a Soviet prison, the two Air Force officers calmly told about the brief air battle that heightened international tension for months.

Armed With To Cannons

McKone, 28, and Olmstead, 25, revealed that the RB47, previously described as unarmed, had two 20-millimeter cannons in the tail and that they returned the fire of the Soviet MIG jet fighter that sent the RB47 down in flames.

Whether the RB47 was unarmed! remained in the realm of Air Force semantics, but many real mysteries about the mission remained unsolved. McKone and Olmstead skirted salient questions about the object of the mission, what happened to three members of the crew, and what information they gave the Soviets.

The two poised young men told about extreme hardships in their Soviet prison, saying they had little more than hope and faith in God to sustain them for seven months.

Treated As Criminals

They were treated as criminals by the Soviets, they said, but were never brought to trial. They told of what seemed like endless interrogation, cold, solitary cells with lights burning 24 hours a day, and a diet which took 40 pounds off each man. Then suddenly they were released without explanation.

The story McKone and Olmstead told of the attack on the plane, as detailed both in a prepared statement and under questioning, was this:

The plane was on a prescribed course, skirting the Soviet land mass by at least 50 miles.

Suddenly the Americans sighted the Soviet MIG-type fighter. They made a turn northward, according to their flight plan. As they turned the MIG was sighted off the right wing.

Missiles from the Soviet plane ripped into the RB47's No. 2 and No. 3 engines, located nearest the fuselage of the six-engine craft on the left wing. The two engines burst into flames and the plane went out of control.

5 From Salem En Route To Game Hurt In Crash

Five Salem persons, en route to Friday night's basketball tournament at Struthers, received minor injuries when their car and another collided on Rt. 224 at the intersection of the Racoon Rd. at 3:40 p. m.

Injured in the mishap were the five passengers in the Salem car. They were:

Mrs. Mildred Phillips, 43, of 305 W. Eighth St., with contusions of the right leg.

Mrs. Doris Cope, 32, of 575 N. Howard Ave., Salem High School teacher, abrasions of both arms.

Mrs. Melba Smith, 50, of 879 E. School St., abrasions of the right leg and contusions of the left shoulder.

The injured were brought to Salem City Hospital, treated and released.

The accident occurred, state patrolmen said, when Kathleen Ann Kohn, 17, of Canfield, pulled her southbound car out of the Racoon Rd. into the path of the eastbound Salem car being driven by Deane C. Phillips, 43, of 305 W. Eighth St., attendance officer in the Salem Public school system.

Extensive damage was sustained by both cars, the Canfield Patrol said. The accident is still under investigation.

India Offers Brigade To Aid U.N. In Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—India has offered a 3,000-man brigade to help beef up the U.N. Congo command and restore order in the divided African nation.

The offer came as leaders of all the anti-Communist Congo factions were meeting on the island of Madagascar in the Indian Ocean to try to thrust out a peaceful settlement of the confused Congolese problem. Rebel chief Antoine Gizenga ignored an invitation to attend and his absence dimmed hopes of progress.

Sending combat troops abroad would set a precedent for India. Units have been used in Korea, Indochina, the Gaza strip and even in the Congo but only on medical missions, as guards and other such non-combatant duties.

Nehru had insisted in clarification of Congo policies before agreeing to send troops. He gave approval to passage of a resolution in the Security Council authorizing U.N. forces to head off military clashes and civil war if need be.

Jha said reinforcements for the U.N. were needed to implement this measure. The Indian envoy said it was not easy for India to send a brigade, but "realizing the situation in the Congo and the urgent need for help, the step was decided upon."

He laid down conditions that Indian troops should not be used to suppress popular movements or party factions in the Congo.

Ambassador Adlai Stevenson discussed the Congo issue with Valerian Zorin at a luncheon he gave Friday for the Soviet deputy foreign minister. A U.S. spokesman said Stevenson may meet Monday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Most delegates agree there will be a long Assembly debate on the Congo, but these preliminary talks may decide what direction the debate will take.

Lisbon Driver Hurt At East Palestine
EAST PALESTINE — Hugh P. Evans, 42, of RD 3, Lisbon, suffered a cut lip when his automobile shattered a city light pole on Bacon Ave. Friday night at 9:40 p. m.

Police cited Evans for reckless driving and Mayor Robert Harding fined him $10 and costs.

Mortars Used As Violence Pace Mounts

Dag Issues Firm Instruction That Order Be Restored

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Congolese troops battled United Nations' soldiers in the vital port town of Matadi today as anti-U.N. violence gathered pace through the Congo.

U.N. sources reported fighting broke out in Matadi streets around midday and raged for two hours with mortar and small arms fire. First reports gave no indication of casualties but said houses and property were damaged in the battle.

Earlier, about 100 miles to the west down the Congo River, Congolese troops came ashore in boats and drove the United Nations garrison of 24 Sudanese soldiers out of the town of Banana.

The assault followed a series of gun battles Friday in which one Congolese soldier was killed and one Sudanese wounded.

U. N. reinforcements of Indonesian troops were rushed out to nearby Kitona this morning after U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold issued form instructions for order to be restored.

The U.N. spokesman said the trouble started when a platoon of Sudanese troops escorting their colonel out to the airport was stopped by Congolese troops.

After brief argument the Congolese troops opened fire, the U.N. spokesman said.

A Congolese civilian was shot dead in a hail of submachine-gun fire outside his home Friday night and Leopoldville police seized a U.N. Tunisian soldier they said was the killer.

The shooting began after a row between a Tunisian soldier and Congolese tailor over a pair of pants.

The retreat of the Sudanese from Banana followed several hours of sporadic clashing including mortar fire laid down by the Congolese. If truce talks fail at Kitona, other measures will be used, a U.N. spokesman said. He did not specify what they would be.

The first Congo troop fire was met by a volley from the Sudanese, who fired over the heads of the Congolese. The Congolese scattered for shelter, leaving behind two prisoners.

The U.N. spokesman said the Sudanese returned to the town and tried to hand the prisoners over to the local Congolese commander, who appeared reluctant to take them. While that parley was going on, a Congo soldier crept up behind the Sudanese troop truck and opened fire. He was killed by a return volley. The Sudanese then withdrew to their camp, leaving the two prisoners behind.

At 4:15 p. m., Congolese troops surrounded the Sudanese camp and laid down a half-hour mortar barrage. Nearly five hours later they reopened mortar fire on the camp.

Then another sizable Congolese force appeared offshore in boats and moved into the town, the spokesman said. The Sudanese retreated to the nearby coast town of Kitona formerly a Belgian base and now an important U.N. base.

A message arriving at U.N. headquarters here from Hammarskjold said there must be no threat to the base.

An undisclosed number of Indonesian troops was flown to Kitona to restore the situation and a Canadian major flew out to the area with Col. Albert Kiembe, Congolese army chief of staff, to try to settle the incident without force.

BIKE TAGS STILL GOOD

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
The Magic of Enthusiasm

A woman asked me to talk to her son, a high school student, about the importance of trying for better marks in his studies. This mother was the aggressive type. She personally dragged the boy to my office and told me in his presence that he was the poorest student her family had ever produced. "He takes after his father," she explained. "Can't get a grade above 70 to save him."

When the boy and I were alone, I said, "Don't let your mother throw you. She loves you all right — only she overdoes it. Try thinking of your mother in two ways: as your mother and also as a human being. Start seeing her not only as a mother but as a woman too. This will help you to consider her objectively. Then understanding her better you'll find her easier to get along with."

Then we began talking about his grades in school. "With a mind like yours a guy's a dope to drift through high school getting only 70's."

"I might as well tell you," he countered, "I have positively no interest in school."

"THAT'S EASY TO SEE. But look, who are you kidding? Only yourself. Scholarship is the means of going places in this world. To make something of yourself and have the things you want in life and be able to do things, you need knowledge. Competition is too fast. Without education you'll be out of it. You know that I'm sure. So skip being sore at your mother and get going."

He came back with, "But I'm dumb. They've always told me I was. I'm just dumb."

"You don't really believe that! You're just riding it as an excuse."

"Well," he said, "I don't know..."

"Well, I know," I asserted, "believe you're capable of grade 90 work." And I gave him a formula — wrote it out for him — and told him I was positive that if he really gave it a try he would knock them dead in the classroom. "I'd sure like to show some of those punks," he growled.

"No, don't try to impress anyone. Just go to work on yourself, and if you only do what you can you'll be O.K."

The better-grades formula I gave him was this:

1. First thing every morning pray and thank God for the powers of your mind.
2. On your way to school say to yourself — Isn't it wonderful that I can go to school! I am building up my know-how.
3. I can handle any subject in this school with God's help.
4. I am going to enjoy every minute of this day.
5. I don't hate anyone. I love everybody — my mother and everybody.

OUTDOOR CHECK-UP — Ethiopian boy in an Addis Ababa school holds on to the chair for dear life as a dentist checks his teeth. It was part of the careful medical examination of students made by visiting nutrition specialists of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF).

WHAT I WAS TRYING TO DO was to help the boy develop enthusiasm. I knew he had the ability; he only lacked motivation. Well, within several months that boy was doing so much better at school he actually did achieve 90 in two subjects! His whole average was 84. And he started getting into extra-curricular activities which helped him to blossom out. He discovered that "the kids like me and I like myself a lot better."

When I saw his mother again she said, "Harry is getting to be quite a student. I always did say he takes after me!"

There is a real magic in enthusiasm. It spells the difference between mediocrity and accomplishment. That boy's rapid improvement in school began when he got enthusiastic. It helped him discover his own untapped mental powers.

ENTHUSIASM releases the drive to carry you over obstacles which you could otherwise never hurdle. It tones up your physical vitality and keeps you going even when the going is hard. It invests the ups and downs of daily life with come-back strength and adds significance to all that you do.

Enthusiasm is wonderful. It gives warmth and good feeling to all your personal relationships. Your enthusiasm will be infectious, stimulating and attractive to others. They will love you for it. They will go for you and with you.

But, people sometimes ask, what good is knowing all this if you just don't happen to feel enthusiastic? You can't be a happy person just by deciding that you are. But that's just where you are wrong — you can make yourself an enthusiastic person. To have enthusiasm just simply start acting enthusiastic. It will grab you.

The word enthusiasm derives from Greek and means in God. Literally enthusiasm means "in God or full of God." So to be enthusiastic fill the mind full of God. Each day think of your blessings and opportunities and thank God for them. Contemplate life's wonders all about you. Marvel at the meaning of life itself. Ponder God's glory and goodness.

The more your mind is full of God, the more you will be full of life. And anyone fully alive is also full of enthusiasm. Whatever you do be sure to cultivate the magic of enthusiasm. It's a tremendous motivation in life.

M-Sgt. Rocco Minniti, U.S. Army local recruiter, announced that 12 area youths and one girl enlisted during February.

The girl was Miss Phyllis J. Coen of Wellsville. She was sent to Ft. McClellan, Ala., for eight weeks of basic training.

Men enlisting were James L. Anderson and William E. Sheen of Hanoverton, George B. Dorr Jr. of Leetonia, William J. Cusick of Rogers, Eddie L. Leake of Irondale, Alfred N. Palmer of Hammondsville, Richard N. Poe, William F. Dozier, Leroy L. Nease and Fred R. Twyford of East Liverpool, David A. Hurd Jr. of Chester, W. V. and James W. Rhodes of Newell.

Anderson, Dorr and Sheen joined under the "Buddy Assignment Plan" and chose to be trained in automotive repair, highway transport and medical care and treatment, respectively.

Cusick chose communication center operation.

All enlisted for a three-year period and were sent to Ft. Knox, Ky., for basic training.

Sgt. Minniti said that many jobs are still available in all fields to young men and women who can qualify. He is stationed at the Salem Post Office.

Basically A BANQUET

Only wise men and hungry children fully appreciate their blessings!

Many of God's gifts, like the air we breathe, are received without thought. Others, like the abundance of the harvest, we think about only in season. Still others, like our religious heritage, get varying degrees of attention and response according to our spiritual perception . . . or the precariousness of our plight.

This isn't Christmas . . . or Easter. And we hope it is not a time of personal crisis for you and your family . . .

If it's just a normal week, full of the routine of life—then it's an ideal time to remember your blessings. And Sunday will be an ideal day to begin, renew or strengthen that wholesome habit of worshipping God in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

That's What Happens to States

The Ohio Legislature has lent itself to a pathetic demonstration of what happens to the states when Uncle Sam — Mister Big — moves in.

It has fumbled state sovereignty in extended unemployment compensation to cover the needs of jobless citizens during a period of prolonged high unemployment.

Instead of proving that it was able and willing to act on its own responsibility, it fooled around with its decision-making power until the federal government beat it to the punch.

The damage was done on Wednesday when the U.S. House of Representatives passed 392-30 a billion dollars' worth of emergency unemployment relief. That made anything the Ohio Legislature might do about extending unemployment relief an anticlimax — too little, too late and too messed up to reflect any credit on Ohio government. The Senate will hold hearings next week. Federal funds will be flowing by April 1, in all probability.

RESPONSIBILITY for this foul-up falls on both parties. The Republican party blocked unemployment compensation extension last November, and the Democratic party blocked it this February and March.

Does it like this stack the odds against saving state sovereignty?

When state politicians go into arm-waving rituals of making the other fellow look like a boob, a monster, or a little of each, they merely give Washington another chance to seem to be saving the day.

Congress can do anything — spend a billion or a million. It doesn't even need to have the money. It can write the entire cost on the cuff and send the cuff to the laundry.

It can go into its classic act of keeping one ear to the ground and both feet off the ground without even exciting suspicion that it may be in the throes of a spend-and-elect fit.

Instead of having to pry its way into local sovereignty, it is like a burglar being invited to come through the door by a feeble-witted inmate who thinks a burglar's jimmy is a magic wand.

Extension of unemployment compensation by Congress is a flesh-creeping example, moreover, of the fatal consequences of letting Washington do everything.

State sovereignty, state pride and state responsibility are drying up and blowing away. Why strive and struggle when all the money is going to come from the big money mires on the Potomac? Why fight giants when Mister Big will come running up with enough money to bury them alive?

WHAT HAS HAPPENED in the House of Representatives and is due to happen next week in the Senate on unemployment compensation will happen eventually on every issue, if that's what the states want.

Why struggle locally to raise money for schoolhouses, teacher salaries, aid for kid who can't afford to pay for their own education and help for colleges that have run out of cheese to pare? Mister Big will be glad to take over and do the whole thing.

Mister Big, in fact, can hardly wait.

Not Like Being a Politician

The image of the United Nations as a world police power is undergoing its severest task.

Every time the word "force" is used in describing what the United Nations may do in the Congo, the U.N. image is distorted. How would U.N. force in the Congo stop the kind of attacks that have been committed against U.N. personnel?

These were personal attacks on women and unarmed men by undisciplined natives — the same kind of indignities perpetrated on Belgians when Congolese natives ran amuck last summer. The fact the natives were called "soldiers" was beside the point. They were essentially riotous tribesmen who were running amuck because there was nothing to stop them.

If the United Nations tried to stop them with less than adequate forces, the result would be disastrous. Being a soldier with a U.N. insignia in the Congo is not like being a policeman. It is like being a hostage in an untrendy country.

The first uncomfortable fact about the disorder in the Congo, that the United Nations spokesmen are talking about clearing up is that no one has asked for it to be cleared up.

The second uncomfortable fact about Congo disorders is that U.N. intervention necessarily would be in behalf of one side or another, in the event of civil war. Or, if Congolese politicians thrashed out a plan to combine forces and clean up pockets of resistance to their rule, U.N. intervention easily could be resistance to the potential majority.

In an unsettled area where events are shaping an emerging nation, any intervening force must gamble on events. The United Nations is gambling in the Congo as truly as the Soviet Union is gambling, or Belgium, or the United States, or anyone else with a finger in the pie.

It is no wonder that the Congolese see little difference among all interventionists, particularly because the United Nations is represented by troops with no special distinction. Worse than that, it is represented by troops identified more readily by their national origins than by their U.N. roles as "peace makers."

This was pointed to a generation ago as the fatal weakness of the League of Nations; that it had no enforcement agency of its own. It had responsibility for keeping order but no authority to carry out its responsibility.

The United Nations fell heir to the same weakness. It has responsibility but no authority. And that is why its image as a world police power is growing blurred in the Congo.

What, exactly, is the United Nations police power?

FCC has authorized test of Pay-TV in Hartford, Conn., telecasting quality programs free from commercials. It will cost fans as high as $3.50 a show but that's cheap if you get a guarantee you will see no pro wrestlers, private eyes or chimpanzees riding bicycles. (If a frontier town marshal comes through, you'll know your set is leaking.)

This will also be true if you encounter a Laurel and Hardy rerun, a man being hunted by helicopter for stealing a buttered bun or four comedians on one show doing same routine.

A Pay-TV fan won't even know how Charlie Chaplin is doing, whether anybody has yet outsmarted Perry Mason or if they have stopped using the three platoon system of district attorneys on that show.

Broadway plays will be shown. This will be welcomed as giving folks a chance to see them without being stepped on through half of the opening act and without danger of having an usher pipe, "I'll have to see your seat stubs" half way through second. A so you can drink homemade orange juice and save big dough.

There is fear that if pay TV succeeds, free shows will deteriorate badly. People may get only Amos & Andy reruns, the right time twice a day and weather forecasts only from MEN instead of photogenic dolls whose personality appeal is so strong the audience can think of Winter Garden chorus while getting data on weather.

(Office optimist who is for pay TV says, "You've been put to sleep for free all these year why object to being kept awake through a TV program even if it costs a little dough?")

Comfort For Leftists

Japan.

IN THAT ARTICLE he said that the American acceptance of the idea that the riots were Communist-inspired "seems absurd to those thousands of Japanese who participated in the demonstrations."

Then he accepts this point of view of the Japanese "who participated in the demonstrations" by concluding that the American view of Communist inspiration was "mistaken."

This is hardly a judicial manner for an individual who is supposed to be qualified as an ambassador to draw a conclusion so important a matter.

Let's see what the opinion of the Japanese government was concerning the origins of the riots. Note, also, that that government took its case to the voters of Japan last November and received an overwhelming vote of confidence.

On a visit to Japan I spent hours with the security police of Japan and they told me, with clear evidence to support them, that through the radical political and labor elements in Japan, Feiping was pouring money into Japan to create just such demonstrations against the democratically elected government.

The inability of the security police to prevent the riots was due not to their lack of information concerning the causes but to the laws of Japan imposed under our occupation which rendered the police helpless in such situations.

The fact of Communist inspiration has been affirmed by young Japanese who themselves participated in the riots and later regretted their actions.

It is true that Prof. Reichsauer goes on in his article in the "Japan Quarterly" gently to remind the extremists that theirs is not the true way of democracy. The one in which he reminds them of this fact is that of so many soft-headed Americans who see every left-wing outbreak abroad as the mistaken but rather innocent reaction to injustice by those in power.

This sort of gentle admonition merely excites those to whom it is addressed to more violent convictions that they are on the side of the angels.

PRESUMABLY, Prof. Reichsauer should be reminded by the administration of which he will probably be a part that the recognition of Red China by the United States and admission to the U.N. cannot be accomplished by a mere scratch of the presidential pen. A solemn treaty is involved as well as the Charter of the U.N.

In that document, to which we are attached by the treaty procedure, it is provided that the Republic of China shall be a member of the Security Council. That means the government presently established in Formosa. As a member of the Security Council, it has a veto as well as the U.S. and the Soviet.

To change the Charter to oust the Republic of China would involve a two-thirds majority in the United States Senate.

It would be unfortunate to have as ambassador to a country which means so much to our security in the Far East a man who holds views so contrary to established American policy.

The Arms Uproar

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Build-Up of Conventional Forces Debated

Sometimes the obvious is overlooked. There has been, for instance, a lot of controversy in the press about a build-up of conventional forces. Some fears have been expressed that nuclear weapons might not be stressed hereafter. It turns out that Secretary of State Dean

Rusk has written a memorandum about it that has stirred up a good deal of curiosity but he says emphatically that whatever is done on conventional arms will not lessen the importance of the arsenal of nuclear weapons.

How has all this discussion arisen? The answer seems very simple. A new secretary of defense, Robert McNamara, takes hold in the Pentagon. He has at his side a variety of advisers on military problems, giving him conflicting opinions as to what ought or ought not to be done. Being an individual with a direct and penetrating mind, he asks, in effect, of the Department of State a natural question:

"What kind of war do you think we are likely to have in the next few years? Tell me, so I can give you the kind of force that can win that war or at least keep the enemy from winning it."

So the secretary of state prepares a memorandum. It gives rise to an emphasis on "limited war," without perhaps stressing that much-controverted term.

Anyway, rather belated attention now is being given to an appraisal of the strength of our conventional forces.

For several years now, in study groups and at meetings of governmental officials and a vast body of experts in the field of foreign policy throughout the United States, there has been a debate on theories of strategy.

One of the leading exponents of the doctrine that it is important to prepare for limited wars is Henry A. Kissinger, director of Harvard's Defense Studies Center, who was recently appointed by President Kennedy as a consultant to him on national security problems.

DR. KISSINGER wrote a book in 1957 called "Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy."

It attracted much interest inside and outside governmental circles, for its main point was this: If a stalemate develops in nuclear weapons, what kind of military forces do the United States and its allies need for other kinds of war?

With more and more talk about negotiations for arms control, especially in the field of nuclear weapons, it is quite natural that out of the government, should begin thinking about limited wars that might ensue.

As an example, there wasn't a nuclear bomb dropped in the three-year Korean War, yet about 2½ million persons were killed or wounded in that conflict.

The real question today is whether a war of the Korean type may break out in Africa or the Middle East or the Far East.

This is the basic issue that is troubling the Kennedy administration. Secretary Rusk's memorandum, which he explained to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, gets to the heart of the matter.

PERHAPS the most interesting and persuasive book on the subject came out just last week. It is called "A Forward Strategy for America," and was written by Robert Strauss-Hupe, William R. Kintner and Stefan T. Possony, as a study sponsored by the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania.

It deals realistically with the winning of the cold war on all fronts—military, psychological and economic.

Here are some excerpts from the book:

"Limited war can be defined as a conflict short of general war in which American forces will or will not use atomic weapons to achieve national objectives. These definitions are adequate—provided we do not let them lead us into the trap of misplaced abstractions. The realities of strategy are multidimensional.

"The conflict between the Free World and the Communists embraces the full range of force and persuasion from peaceful competition and negotiation at one end to nuclear wars of annihilation of the other. . . .

"To base our strategy on the idea that nuclear war is 'unthinkable' is to make sure a war more likely. If, however, we cleave to the idea that nuclear war is possible, it will probably never occur."

The basic conclusion reached is that America and its allies "have failed to rally their moral and material strength sufficiently to enhance and extend freedom and make it prevail over tyranny."

The new debate is of transcendent importance. It would be a mistake to suppress discussion, as some misguided members of Congress imply when they argue that the Rusk memorandum should not have been published. It is rather the essence of sensible policy to bring out in the open all broad aspects of strategy. Free World understand and appraise the Communist menace, and perhaps the peoples of the Soviet Union also would become informed on what their own government is doing to threaten their safety.

By OMER ANDERSON

HEIDELBERG The U.S. Army in Europe is "advising" its families to demobilize their legions of domestics to relieve the dollar drain.

Staff studies show that military families employ around 100,000 domestics in West Germany, France, England and Italy. The average monthly payment is $50, which drains off $60 million a year.

The 100,000 domestics serve the 200,000 military family units in Europe. They include mainly maids but also a sprinkling of cooks, drivers and even the odd butler and valet.

Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, U.S. commander in chief in Europe, has ordered that his subordinates take all possible action to eliminate dollar expenditures on the European economy.

Clarke has even gone so far as to bar the exhibit of foreign-made products from military installations, including service clubs and post exchanges.

Now Gen. Clarke's "save-the-dollar" task force has zeroed in on the domestics issue.

Although Clarke's watchdogs are concerned only with the domestics dollar drain in Europe, they estimate that the worldwide servant situation parallels that here. Total U. S. "dependent" (military parlance for wives, children and in-laws) elsewhere is 250,000, and the domestics total is put at around 150,000.

Servants are cheaper in the Orient than in Europe and "face" demands that the military family acquire more than one domestic. Critics of the military servants battalions claim the domestics constitute the most insane aspect of the dollar drain.

In most areas, military families are congregated in "Little Americas," apartment complexes built by the U.S. forces with all modern American conveniences.

The U.S. military's domestics dilemma traces back to the early postwar period, when servants were an occupation status symbol. In this period the occupation forces supplied a maid and a hand-dyman janitor or gardener to each military family, paying them out of occupation funds.

In 1951 the occupation forces disbanded the servant battalions but by this time servants had become such a secure status symbol that military families retained their domestics, paying them out of their own pocket.

But Gen. Clarke's economy analysts have concluded that servants are an outword and false status symbol in the changed world since the occupation. Servants' snack of colonialism to some critics and are an affectation, if not an arrogance, considering that few American families have them at home.

The servant problem has been moved into the limelight in West Germany by this country's severe labor shortage. Factories are recruiting distaff labor on an expanding scale.

Matter of Fact

Ten years after he'd made history at Kitty Hawk, an older but wiser Orville Wright considered that daring first flight. Wrote Orville: "I would hardly think today of making my first flight on a strange machine in a 27-mile wind, even if I knew that the machine had been flown and was safe."

The Social Notebook

THE AMERICAN Legion Auxiliary enjoyed a coverish dinner Tuesday evening at the Post home with Legionnaires as guests. Special guests were Mrs. Gertrude McLaughlin of Columbiana, president of County Council, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Tolston of North Canton and Mrs. Fred Koenreich Sr. of Salem.

Garden Club Meets, Enjoys Program

"Wings at Your Window" by Mrs. Ralph Martin and a film "The Correlation of Flower Arrangements and Home Decorating" constituted the program when the Salem Garden Club met Monday at the Smucker House.

Mrs. James Barrow, vice president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. William Butler, civic chairman and her committee will make the arrangement for the speakers table at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner Tuesday in the Educational hall of Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

A number of community projects are in the planning stage and will be announced at a later date.

Members were given a briefing on the work being done in the special class at Fourth Street School, directed by Mrs. Wayne Whiteleather and her garden therapy committee.

Each child has been given a program book and a scrapbook with which to work. They planted a bulb dish garden and at their next meeting will be instructed in the proper planting of seeds.

Mrs. J. F. Schmid announced that the bus trip to the Cleveland Flower Show, sponsored by the Garden Center, has been well-received. The library at the Center in the Smucker House, will be open on Fridays for the convenience of Federation members.

Green ribbon awards were announced by Mrs. J. H. Benson, and included: Arrangement featuring birds, Mrs. Robert Davis.

Mrs. G. F. Jones, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. R. K. Zimmerman; horticulture, Mrs. John Bauman, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. L. P. Koenreich.

Mrs. Jones told of the work of the Junior Garden Club committee at Fourth St. and Prospect Schools. The students in the Senior High School Club studied the basic principles in starting a greenhouse, under the leadership of Mrs. A. A. Parker. They planted bulbs and are making baskets from coconut shells.

"Woody Plants Through the Season" was Dr. J. Arthur Hirsch's slide program given at a recent meeting of the Garden Forum in Youngstown. Mrs. Loezler Caplan, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Zimmerman were awarded blue ribbons for their arrangements exhibited there.

Conservation chairman, Mrs. J. Hiegel, urged members, as well as residents of the community, to write to their state representatives asking that they back the bill preventing billboards on the highways.

Mrs. Martin's talk gave informative tips on attracting and providing food and shelter for the birds. Early spring is an especially important time to continue feeding the birds since the fall supply of fruits and seeds are exhausted at this time. Proper landscape planting furnishes both food and shelter for the birds, she said.

Mrs. Caplan narrated the film. The flower arrangements used with the film were made by club members.

Mrs. Bauman received a special prize.

The March 27 meeting will have as its guest speaker Max Gard.

whose topic will be "Let's Appreciate Columbiana County." There will be a workshop at 9:30 a.m. with a business meeting and tea at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. F. W. Hone will serve as tea chairman.

Lenten Program Is Held by WSCS

A Lenten program was presented when the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Wednesday in the First Methodist church. Mrs. Fred Capel related her experience at the Oberammergau Passion Play in Bavaria, giving a brief account of the origin and history of the play.

Vivid color pictures from scenes of the play were projected on the screen as Mrs. O. A. Naragon and Mrs. Lester Baldinger narrated this story of the final eventful week in the life of Jesus.

Mrs. A. W. Killman assisted in the dramatization, singing two vocal numbers, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord," and "There is a Green Hill Far Away." Mrs. Homer Taylor was accompanist.

Mrs. James Cunningham, program chairman, who prepared the narration for the pictures, arranged the worship setting, a large wooden cross in a flood of light.

A short business meeting followed. There were 31 members and one guest in attendance. The president, Mrs. Taylor, announced that the consecration of gift boxes will be held in April at a special meeting to be arranged by Miss Alice Whitney.

The group was reminded of two important district events, "The Day Apart" observance in Carrollton Monday, and the spring meeting at East Liverpool April 20.

Twila Hahn members were on the hospitality committee, and members from the Jane Crooks Group served refreshments. An arrangement of pink and white spring blossoms graced the lace covered buffet table.

"My Father Will Send You a Comforter" was the meditation theme presented by Mrs. William Keck when she led the prayer service preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Floyd Craig was at the organ.

"Let Us Rejoice" is the theme of the chapel service to be held at 7 p.m. April 5. There will be a musical prelude. The business session and program will begin at 7:30.

Mt. Union Choir Plans Public Concert Sunday

The Mount Union College Choir, which will make a tour of Europe this summer, will give a public concert Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Alliance High School. Cecil Stewart is director of the group.

The concert is sponsored by the Alliance Community Concert Association.

Members of the choir include David Kile of Salem, Larry Jose of Damascus and Wayne Denny of Belmont.

MT. UNION ART EXHIBIT

ALLIANCE African sculpture from the Segy Gallery in New York forms the new exhibition at Mount Union College's Crandall Art Studios, March 5-24. Free to the public, the exhibition is open Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. Regular gallery hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Senior Citizens Activities Planned

Salem Senior Citizens Club will hold their crafts and activities day on Thursdays throughout the month of March, instead of on Fridays as announced recently. This will include the choir, crafts, movies and "kitchen cabinet" band.

The drop-in sessions will continue every other Wednesday, except the fourth Wednesday which is the regular business meeting. All area men and women 60 years of age and over are invited to attend the sessions. Those interested are to call the club director, Mrs. Ray Stiver, at the Memorial Building.

The group is in the process of making centerpieces for the Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday as their civic project.

The group will make Easter favors for use in the local hospitals and nursing homes, in conjunction with the Salem Garden Club.

Eighty members are going to Youngstown March 23 to put on a program for the Youngstown Senior Citizens Club, followed with a tour of the Schwebel bakery. Deadline for reservations is March 8.

The next business meeting is March 22.

Bill Beery Sparks Salem to 58-53 Win Over Struthers

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

In one of the best played high school basketball games seen in this area in many a moon, the Salem Quakers of Coach John Cabas defeated the Struthers Wildcats, 58-53, last night at the Struthers Field House to gain one of the four berths in the Youngstown District Tournament to be played next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at South Field House.

Campbell Memorial also sewed up a spot in the District Tourney by thumping a very cold shooting East Palestine quintet, 72-45, in the first game on last night's card.

The other two teams in the Youngstown District Tournament will be determined tonight when Warren Harding tangles with Youngstown Rayen and Poland battles Canfield. Drawings for the District will take place at South Field House immediately after the Poland-Canfield clash.

A RECORD-BREAKING crowd of 4,126 paying customers last night saw two powerful, almost evenly-matched cage squads play just about as flawless basketball as two high school teams are capable of performing. And among all this perfection the coolest, most determined and most sensational performer of them all was a 15-year-old Quaker sophomore by the name of Bill Beery.

The 6-0½ jumping jack had the Struthers court measured from every angle as he peppered the hoop for 13 field goals and two fouls to account for 28 of Salem's 58 points. He caged his 13 goals on 24 shots for a nifty 54.2 per cent.

The Quakers rediscovered the all important team balance which was so obviously missing in their first tourney start against Brookfield on Wednesday, but there is no denying that Beery was the man who sparked the team last night. It was he who rallied the Quakers when the game looked to be slipping away late in the third quarter as the Wildcats moved out to a six-point lead.

The determination with which Beery followed up his shots was something to see. He wound up scoring 20 of Salem's 53 points in the spine-tingling second half.

THE TWO TALLEST teams in the district matched each other point for point in the first quarter.

The defense which Coach John Cabas employed kept Struthers out away from the basket. However, some nifty outside shooting by Rich Cappola and John Myers, the only two non-seniors in the Wildcats' starting five, enabled Struthers to keep up with Salem's well-balanced attack.

Period number two was almost a carbon copy of the first quarter. Bob Eskey's goal with four seconds to go gave Salem a 25-24 lead at halftime.

First half scoring showed Beery

Quakers, Campbell Advance to District with 8 points, Eskey and Ted Thorne with 6 apiece, Don Davidson with 3 and Allen Ewing, who relieved starter Tod Couchie late in the opening period, with 2. The leading scorer in the game at this point was Struthers' 6-5 John Myers with 10 points.

STRUTHERS' ACE, John Turner was held to just four points in the first half, but this aggressive 6-4 cager banged home seven points in the third quarter which vaulted the Wildcats into their biggest lead of the game, 39-33, with two minutes left in the third period.

From here on, Beery took charge. His long heave from almost the half as the buzzer signaled the end of the third quarter swished the net and left Salem trailing, 41-38, at the three-quarter mark. Just before he sank that long shot, Beery had become a little over-anxious and cut loose from the half with a shot with 10 seconds still left in the half. However, Davidson, grabbed the rebound, got it back out to Beery and the confident sophomore fired it through the hoop.

In the fourth quarter, Coppola, Myers and 6-6 John Morris kept pouring in the points but Beery matched them basket for basket. Clutch-shooting Bob Eskey finally tied the score at 45-45 with a goal at the 5:25 mark.

A tap-in by Morris put Struthers back on top. Beery and Myers then exchanged baskets before Davidson knotted the count again at 49-49 with a pair of fouls. Big Morris tapped in another rebound before Thorne came through with a three-point play which gave Salem the lead again, 52-51, with 3:16 left in the game.

A long jumper by Beery and a driving layup by the same talented sophomore put the Quakers on top, 56-51, with only :49 seconds to go. A pair of free throws by Davidson put the icing on the cake. Jerry Rudzik closed out the scoring for Struthers as time ran out.

COACH GEORGE KERLEK of Struthers made his first and only substitute in the game when Turner fouled out with only three seconds to go in the game. Ewing was Salem's only substitute, and he played the majority of the game.

Big Ted Thorne of the Quakers picked up his fourth personal foul with 5:31 to go in the third quarter and was pulled out of the lineup for the remainder of the period. The score was 23-28 when Couchie came in for Thorne and it was right after the 6-5½ junior's departure that Struthers built up its six-point lead.

Davidson, Beery and Thorne did an outstanding job on the boards for Salem. After turning in a brilliant 32-point performance against Brookfield on Wednesday, Davidson was able to contribute only one field goal and six fouls to Salem's scoring attack last night. The 6-5½ senior captain worked out front and helped set up the plays but he was an impotent 1 for 10 from the floor.

BOB ESKEY, who is still not fully recovered from a case of blood poisoning came through with four clutch goals. Three of Eskey's goals brought Salem from behind and put them in the lead in the first half and the other one tied the score in the fourth quarter.

In all, the lead exchanged hands on 21 occasions and was tied 14 times.

Just as Struthers did a good job on Davidson, the Quakers' contained the Wildcats' star, John Turner, with four goals and three fouls for 11 points. Myers was the top man for Struthers with 14 points. Morris also had 11.

In shooting percentages, Salem was 22 for 60 from the floor for 36.7 per cent while Struthers shot 30.4 per cent on 22 for 65. The well-planned Salem defense kept the tall Struthers cagers pretty well bottled up inside, and except for Morris' tap-ins, Struthers was forced to do most of its shooting from outside.

While both teams wound up with 22 goals, Salem won the game from the foul line, converting 14 of 20 charity tosses while Struthers hit 9 for 23.

Officials Red Angela and Mike Mare called 12 fouls on Salem and 15 on Struthers in the hard-fought but clean game.

COACHES CABAS AND Kerlek both were high in their compliments for their opponents last night. "We had to be good to tonight," Cabas remarked because Struthers played a great ball game.

Coach Kerlek commented, "I wish the Quakers a lot of luck in the tournament, they have a great ball club." "I thought we played a good ball game, too," the Struthers mentor commented. "I was afraid all along that Salem would come back and they did."

The Struthers Field House last night was packed a good 45 minutes before the start of the first game. As usual, Salem fans supported their team in full force.

The Salem cheering section got into the swing of things a full two hours before the Quakers took the floor. Like the team, that Quakers cheering section better than held its own against the Wildcats who were in their home gym.

Probably the bravest boy in the Field House was the lad who hauled down the big "Struthers Beat Salem" sign from the wall near the end of the fray when the Quakers had the game wrapped up.

Salem and Campbell Memorial each received trophies last night for winning the Sectional Finals games.

CAMPBELL, A TEAM without a lot of size but an outfit that handles the ball well, got to East Palestine early last night and never let up.

It was just "one of those nights" for the Bulldogs who shot a frigid 23 per cent from the floor. East Palestine's tall boys just didn't come through. Little guard Ronnie Watt was the Bulldogs' most impressive performer. He played a fine floor game and tallied 13 points. Talented Jim Hartshorn also hooped 13 markers but this wasn't one of his best nights.

Memorial's top scorer was its tallest man, 6-3 Al Kelley, who hit 20 points and looked very impressive. Ken Kish, a fine outside shot, also looked good for Memorial. He collected 17 points.

East Palestine closed its season with a 15-6 record. Struthers finished with a 16-4 mark, quite an improvement over last year's 1-18 mark.

Salem will take a 16-4 record into District competition next week.

Wittenberg Edges Capital 33-31 In Overtime; Akron Rips Wooster

Steubenville Closes Out Season 14-8 After Whipping Lemoyne, N. Y. 82-62

Arch rivals Wittenberg and Akron, the two Ohio Conference basketball giants, stage a repeat performance tonight in the loop's second annual tourney, with the winner earning a berth in the NCAA College Division Tournament.

Last year the same two teams battled for the conference tournament title with Wittenberg winning 65-56.

For three straight seasons Wittenberg has held the conference regular-season championship—not to be confused with the tournament title—and Akron has been the major scourge of the Tigers each of those times. The last time the Zippers took the loop championship was in 1957-58.

Wittenberg Friday night chalked up its 32nd straight conference victory, and 13th of this season, by edging Capital 33-31 in an overtime heart-stopper. The southern division tourney semifinal on Capital's court was tied up by Wittenberg in the last second of regulation play when Eldon Miller hit a jump shot from the keyhole to make it 31-31.

Only two points were scored in the extra five-minute period—a layup by Wittenberg's Bert Price with 1:41 left. After the tally by Price, the conference's most valuable player for two straight years, Capital tried but failed to sink two field goals, the last with five seconds to go.

Meanwhile, in the northern division semi-final at Akron, the Zippers were drubbing Wooster, 78-59, behind a 30-point scoring spurge by Bobby Green. Akron led all the way, 40-30 at the half, in posting its 10th straight victory and upping its record to 18-6, the same as the losing Scots.

Wittenberg, now 19-4, meets Akron at 8 p.m. on the Capital court in a tournament finale.

In earlier tournament rounds, Wittenberg had knocked out Denison (62-28) and Otterbein (47-43), while Akron kayowed Oberlin (88-66) and Hiram (128-79).

In the only Ohio college cage action, Steubenville closed out its season with a 14-8 mark after whipping Lemoyne (N.Y.), 82-62.

Indiana Leads Michigan By Narrow Margin In Swim Meet

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Indiana's upstart Hoosiers and Michigan's tourney-tested Wolverines were tangled today in the most star-spangled record-breaking Big Ten swimming meet in history.

With eight of 14 speed events completed in the 51st championship, seven new records were in the books and the Hoosiers—hot on the trail of their first title—led the Wolverines, champs the last three years, by a slim margin of one and five-twelfths points.

Seven events this afternoon were due to decide it, but it was strictly a two-team scrap and could go either way.

Indiana owned four of the new records, Michigan two and Minnesota one. As they headed into today's finals, the point totals were: Indiana 118, Michigan 116 7-12, Ohio State 58½, Michigan State 53½, Wisconsin 39 5-6, Iowa 23 1-12, Minnesota 14, Illinois 10½, Purdue 8½, and Northwestern 5.

Only the 220-yard freestyle record survived the onslaught of the speedy splashers, Indiana's Pete Sintz defending his laurels in 2:02.3 as compared to the standard of 2:01.5 set in 1957 by Michigan's Dick Hanley.

Indiana's Alan Somers set a new 1500-meter freestyle record in 17:49.9, and Hoosier Joe Roethke cracked the 200-yard individual medley mark with 2:04 in Thursday's openers.

In Friday night's scintillating performances Indiana's Mike Troy, the Olympic champion, set a new 200-yard butterfly mark of 1:58; Minnesota's lanky sophomore flash, Steve Jackman, rushed through the 50-yard freestyle in 21.4; Indiana's Frank McKinney, 1956 and 1960 Olympic medal winner, came in with a new 1:59.8 mark in the 200-yard backstroke; Michigan's Ron Clark defended his 200-yard breast stroke crown with a record-setting 2:14.3, and Michigan State set a new 400-yard freestyle relay mark of 3:19.3 in the qualifier and then bowed to Michigan in the final as the Wolves came home in 3:19.8.

In Friday night's scintillating performances Indiana's Mike Troy, the Olympic champion, set a new 200-yard butterfly mark of 1:58; Minnesota's lanky sophomore flash, Steve Jackman, rushed through the 50-yard freestyle in 21.4; Indiana's Frank McKinney, 1956 and 1960 Olympic medal winner, came in with a new 1:59.8 mark in the 200-yard backstroke; Michigan's Ron Clark defended his 200-yard breast stroke crown with a record-setting 2:14.3, and Michigan State set a new 400-yard freestyle relay mark of 3:19.3 in the qualifier and then bowed to Michigan in the final as the Wolves came home in 3:19.8.

Dave Gillanders of Michigan chased Troy home in 1:58.4 in the 200-yard butterfly (he finished third in the Olympics), to join the Hoosier flash as the only ones who have ever broken two minutes in the event. It was Dave's first venture beyond the barrier, but Troy has cracked two minutes a dozen times.

McKinney's 1:59.8 marked only the second time a swimmer has dented two minutes in the 200-yard backstroke. The other is Tom Stock, Indiana freshman, who did it in 1:59.9 in February.

Ohio State, as usual, made its big showing on the diving boards. The Bucks won three of the four top spots for 2½ of their 58½ points in the one-meter event, with Lou Vitucci finishing far out front with a 492.3 point total to the 463.3 with which Michigan's Bob Webster captured second.

Qualifiers for the remaining seven events were scheduled this morning, with the championships starting at 3 p.m. The afternoon session, instead of the usual evening meet, was set up to clear the decks for Ohio State's basketball clash with Michigan State tonight—in which the top-ranked Bucks were expected to clinch the Big Ten crown for the second straight year.

Hoppel Wins In State Wrestling

Enters Semi-Finals; Rambo Loses Match

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three Cleveland area teams were tied for the lead with 10 points apiece after Friday's quarter-final round of the state high school wrestling championships.

The three are Eastlake North, Euclid and Cleveland John Marshall. Defending champion Garfield Heights is out of the running by virtue of not getting enough wrestlers into the state tourney.

Unexpected defeats were suffered in the opening round by Whitehall's Mike Beery and Pleasant View's Jerry Good, both previously unbeaten after 22 and 26 straight victories, respectively.

Among the quarter-final winners who will enter today's semi-finals is Carl Hoppel of Beaver Local School.

Hoppel, who has a three-year record of 63 wins and only two defeats, won his match in the 133-pound class.

His teammate, Gary Rambo who participated in the state tournament in the 145-pound class, failed to qualify.

The finals in the tournament are scheduled to start immediately after the semi-finals. The list of semi-finalists follows:

103-pound class: John Sabo, Cleveland John Marshall; Lou Natale, Cleveland West; Bob McKinlon, Aurora, and Ron Sanda, Bedford.

112-pound: John Price, Eastlake North; Gerald McDaniel, Martins Ferry; Jim Schomauer, Cleveland St. Joseph, and Dick Levine, Cleveland Heights.

120-pound: Bob Maurer, Bowling Green; Ken Millikan, Mayfield Heights; Gary James, Barberton, and Joe Gugliotta, Garfield Heights.

127-pound: Bob Douglas, Bridgeport; Sonny Younkinn, Hilliard; Ted Hupp, Whitehall, and Larry Stephenson, Lakewood.

133-pounds: Carl Hoppel, Lisbon Beaver; John Henderson, Cleveland John Marshall; Al Noose, Eastlake North, and Don Lorence, Mantua.

138-pound: Mike Dane, Euclid, Charles Jackson, Canton McKinley; John Zanella, Cleveland Collingwood, and Don Duda, Toledo Macomber.

145-pound: Bob Lerch, Lakewood; Frank Lorence, Crestwood; Bob Sautter, Toledo DeVilbiss, and Dick Bliss, Eastlake North.

154-pound: Buddy Young, Mayfield Heights; Tom Bender, Maple Heights; Ed Lopinski, Toledo Macomber, and Bill Shea, Cleveland Brush.

Heavyweight (185-pound): Denys Sherman, Toledo Libbey; Phil Ward, Martins Ferry; Lester Moes, Cleveland West Tech; Ed Orazan, Euclid; Bill Pierce, Cleveland St. Joseph; Tom Wilhelm, Cleveland John Marshall; Gene Bunetta, Maple Heights, and Clarence Jentes, Wooster.

Best hitting streaks ever compiled as a Giant were turned in by Fred Lindstrom in 1930 and Don Mueller in 1955. Both hit safely in 24 straight games.

Sugar Ray, Fullmer Fight Up In Air

LAS VEGA, Nev. (AP)—Tonight's scheduled middleweight title fight between champion Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson was up in the air today.

It was neither off nor on. An emergency meeting of the State Athletic Commission, promoters, and representatives of the two camps ended in the early morning hours with no decision on whether an ultimatum issued by Robinson Friday night would be met.

The 40-year-old challenger threatened to pull out of his fourth title meeting with the champion from Utah unless the ring at Las Vegas Convention Center was enlarged from slightly more than 16 feet to 18 feet—or replaced by a larger ring.

Robinson accused the promoters of favoring Fullmer and said they were trying to make him fight "in a telephone booth."

He contended the 16-foot ring was calculated to help his less agile opponent.

Co-promoter Norman Rothschild said he would try to have the ring enlarged or replaced, but could promise nothing.

Robinson's personal physician, Dr. Robert Holloman, who attended the early morning meeting, said Sugar Ray had not retreated from his decision to go home if his demand was not satisfied.

Hutchinson Says Hook Ready To Go

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Jay Hook, a main part of the Cincinnati Reds' youth movement in pitching, has become a good reason for Manager Fred Hutchinson to sleep better these nights.

Hutch said Friday it's still early in spring training but he has learned now Hook is ready to start, along with Jim O'Toole, Joey Jay and Bob Purkey.

"This I was unable to do until almost the end of the '60 training season," he said, "and even then I wasn't too sure I was right."

Hook's 11-18 season mark last year and 4.50 era was about what the Reds expected. They expect him to do a lot better this year.

"He should have won at least three or four more games," said Hutch. "Jay dropped two toughies to the Braves and a couple of grounders that took bad hops beat him in another at Pittsburgh."

"Jay's a fine looking pitcher now and should develop into a great one."

Kuby Fighting for Tribe Infielder Post

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A 24-year-old Alabamian, who is pudgy and wears glasses, may be the short-stop of the future for the Cleveland Indians. But right now, although he hit .338 at Mobile in 1960, he's fighting to make the team as a utility infielder.

He is Jack (Kuby) Kubisyn who is rated the best rookie infielder in the training camp. There is some talk—only talk, however—that he may push Woodie Held over to third base.

"The question with Kuby, as with any youngster, is his bat," says Manager Jimmie Dykes. "If he hits in the exhibitions, we'll see. But right now, I've got to consider Bubba Phillips as the top man at third base and Held as the shortstop."

Kuby hit .350 while playing three years for the University of Alabama. The Indians gave him a $25,000 bonus on the recommendation of Joey Sewell, who scouted him.

In his first two seasons in the minor leagues, Kuby hit .255 and .257. Last year, he put on glasses and his average zoomed.

"The glasses don't make that much difference, though," he explained. "With me, the problem in hitting is mental. See, I was well over .300 in the first two years and then I'll get real tired and slump."

"I was using myself up doing unnecessary things. For instance, I'd get all keyed up during an infield practice, or during batting practice. Last year I learned to conserve my energy."

He packs that energy on a 5-foot-11, 180-pound frame.

A total of 17,702 standardbreds participated in 39,882 harness races during 1960, reports the U. S. Trotting Assn.

Jim Maloney, 20, Being Groomed As Starting Hurler for Redlegs

Right-Hander Won 14 Games, Lost 5 In Southern Association This Season

Twenty-three years ago a big rookie with a humming fastball and a notable minor league strike out record made the biggest impression among the pitchers in the Cincinnati Reds' training camp.

That same season of 1938, the youngster, Johnny Vander Meer, pitched two consecutive no-hits, no-run games—a record not matched to this day. Vandy, a southpaw, became one of the National League's leading pitchers.

This spring Jim Maloney, 20, has made the most impressive showing among the Reds' moundsmen.

Here's Tonight's Area Tournament Schedule
Youngstown Class A Sectional
7:30 Warren vs Youngstown Rayen
9, Poland vs Canfield
East Liverpool Class A Sectional
8, Wellsville vs Steubenville Central.

When Tom Morgan, Los Angeles Angels' pitcher, lived in El Monte, Calif., his home was on a street called Baseball Avenue

"His fastball is a real hummer," said Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson after watching pitch batting practice Friday. "It doesn't take long for the hitters to learn to respect him. He's a nice kid but he's mean when he's out there in the middle of the mound."

Maloney, a right-hander from Fresno, Calif., was not particularly kind to Southern Association batters last season. He struck out 162 in 161 innings while winning 14 games and losing only five. In 11 games with Cincinnati he had a 2-6 mark, fanning 48 in 64 innings.

While Maloney is apparently being groomed for a starting role, the Los Angeles Dodgers seem to be tapping lefty Sandy Koufax for bullpen duty this year. This was the word from the Dodgers' quarters at Vero Beach, Fla., where Koufax hurled three scoreless innings in a family game. He allowed only one hit and did not walk a batter.

It was Koufax' third mound appearance in five days. His record as a starter the past two seasons was 8-6 and 8-13.

Two other pitchers, Camillo Pascual of the Minnesota Twins and Turk Lown of the Chicago White Sox, did their work with a pen Pascual's signing for 1961 left only two Twins out of the fold. They are outfielder Jim Lemon and infielder Jose Valdivielso.

Hank Greenberg, the White Sox vice president, signed Lown and then left for New York to talk to pitcher Bob Shaw. Shaw is the only unsigned White Sox player.

The batters had their licks, too. Rookie second baseman Jake Wood's was the hitting star of Detroit's first camp game. He banged out a homer and two singles. Woods is up from Denver of the American Association.

Roberto Clemente, a star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, hit two balls out of the park in the Bucs' initial batting drill. Gino Cimoli, another outfielder, also slammed one over the fence.

In other baseball news, second baseman Julian Javier of St. Louis was sidelined for a few days with a virus. Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch expressed displeasure with outfielder Tony Curry's 15 pounds overweight.

First baseman Dale Long and R. C. Stevens were tabbed for the cleanup spots in Washington's first family game Sunday and Frans Lane, Kansas City's active general manager, served notice he's ready to trade with the New York Yankees unless a few other American League teams do business with him.

Leetonia Upsets Columbiana 66-45 In "A" Sectional

United, Northwest Also On To District

Canton Field House Is Stage For Twelve Advancing Sectional Winners

Any hope the Columbiana Clippers had of putting the Leetonia Bears into hibernation for another year was quickly dispelled Friday night in Canton as the Bears caged upset the Clippers 66-45 in Class A sectional finals.

"Dark horse" United Local also looked impressive in their 54-47 overtime win over second seeded Magadore 54-47. Also going to the district games in Canton next week is the Northwest quintet who dumped Akron St. Mary 59-43 last night.

But in the Columbiana-Leetonia fray, one of the biggest area Class A tourney upset in many a season, the Clippers had their hands full with the hot Bear cagers.

Although the win was a great team effort by Leetonia with seven players scoring, it was the strong rebounding by Jim Stelts, the outside shooting by Roger Burkholder and the all-round shooting by Jim Franko that proved too much for the Clippers.

Stelts, a six-foot senior, grabbed off 20 rebounds and scored 19 points, while Franko pumped in 20 markers and Burkholder got 10 points, mostly from the outside.

The win for Leetonia was bitter revenge for the two Tri-County season losses suffered at the hands of the Clippers, 66-59 and 68-52.

Columbiana seemed to have control of the first half as they posted 12-11 and 27-25 periods leads. In the first quarter the Bears found themselves cold from the field, hitting for only one bucket in the final 25 seconds. However, their nine points from the foul line kept them in the ball game.

Early in the third period of the see-saw battle, Coach Len Batcha's Bears moved out in front 28-27 and were never headed, as they posted a 39-36 third quarter lead and poured it on in the final frame.

In shooting, Leetonia hit for 21 of 56 shots from the field and an amazing 24 of 25 from the foul line, while Columbiana meshed 16 of 58 from the field and 13 of 20 from the charity line.

Columbiana's Rich Harold garnered 18 points for the losers, while teammate Gary Perkins dumped in nine.

Rich Berryman's Clippers bow out of the cage picture with a 13-6 season record; Leetonia is now 7-12.

It took an impressive overtime stint on the part of United to pull their thriller away from high-rated Magadore.

The Magadore quintet moved out to a quick 15-11 first period lead and continued to stay ahead at halftime 23-21. But Coach Larry Joseph's United cagers began to jell in the third period and took the lead 32-30, before knotting the count at 44-all at the end of regulation time.

It was all United in the overtime, both offensively and defensively, as they scored 10 markers to only three for Magadore. United's Jerry Shaffer dumped in six of the overtime points, and teammate John Hanna the other four.

United hit for 32.7 per cent from the field to Magadore's 27.1 per cent. From the foul stripe the Golden Eagles hit 16 of 21 attempts for 76 per cent, while the Summit County champs sunk nine of 20 for 45 per cent.

Shaffer of United led all scoring with 18 points. Don Mayer also garnered 10 and Hanna 14 for the winners. Murphy scored 14 and Fuller 11 for Magadore.

United now heads for the district with a 10-12 record, four of the wins recorded in tourney play. Earlier tourney victims of United were Sallineville 53-46, Fairfield-Waterford 52-47, and Windam 45-37.

United, Leetonia and Northwest now advance to the district tourney at the Canton Field House next week, with pairing scheduled some time this weekend. Besides these three teams from Canton, two teams from Wooster, three from Warren, three from Fairport Harbor and one team from Clearview will provide the action.

UNITED LOCAL — 54

Plays Last Home Tilt Tonight

OSU Has Never Repeated As Big Ten Cage Champs

Ohio State University's undefeated basketball team, which has clinched a share of the Western Conference title, will conclude the home season tonight against Michigan State University.

The Buckeyes now have won 22 straight this season and 27 over a two-year period. The winning streak at home stands at 22 and 17 on the road. Ohio State defeated the Spartans at East Lansing, 83 to 68. The Buckeyes will wind up the 1960-61 schedule March 11 at Illinois.

Jerry Lucas has piled up 523 points for a 24.9 average, followed by Larry Siegfried with 328 and 14.9. Lucas has 365 rebounds.

Siegfried's total is one point more than Havlicek's 327. Mel Nowell has scored 302. The Buckeyes are shooting .495 from the floor to .365 for the opposition.

The Scarlet and Gray cagers have averaged 86.1 points to 64.7 for their 22 opponents. The team free throw percentage stands at .759, with Siegfried continuing to be one of the nation's leaders. The Buckeye captain has a percentage of .889, based on 104 successful shots in 117 attempts.

If the Buckeyes can repeat as champions they will be the first Ohio State team to accomplish the feat. An undefeated Big Ten season also would be a Buckeye "first." Previous champions lost either one or two games.

Lehman Routs Louisville In Tournament

Canton Lehman's 6-3 1/2 senior Bill Scoggans proved to be too much for the Louisville Leopards cage squad last night as he dumped in 34 points in leading the Polar Bears to a 76-59 win in the Canton Sectional AA tournament.

Scoggans was especially effective in the first half as he tallied 15 points, mostly on easy layins, to send Lehman in front to stay 26-16 at the first period mark and 39-26 at halftime.

At the three-quarter buzzer, Lehman had a 56-40 edge and went on to completely swamp the small Leopards in the final stanza. Scoggans, whose mastery of the boards stopped all chances of a Louisville victory, led the scoring with his 34 points, while Deveny and Conley dumped in 12 each for Lehman.

Louisville's Bob Bardash, a 5-8 junior who has starred in the three Leopard tourney games, led the scoring for the losers with 13. Gary Allen meshed 14 and Bob Smith 11 for the Leopards.

Both teams had a good shooting night, Lehman with 34 of 67 for 49 per cent and Louisville 51.1 per cent on 23 of 45.

The Polar Bears, with Scoggans grabbing 16, collected 27 rebounds to Louisville's 21.

Lehman, now 17-3, heads for the Canton District tourney next week. Louisville ended its season with a 10-11 mark.

Lee Paces Pistons To 129-112 Win

Rookie George Lee, veteran Gene Shue and a big second-half surge have kept the Detroit Pistons a length ahead of the Cincinnati Royals in the duel for the third playoff berth in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Lee scored 30 points, Shue 29 and the Pistons wound up with 71 second-half points for a 129-112 victory over the New York Knicks-erbockers Friday night. It gave Detroit a 31-42 record and a one-game lead over idle Cincinnati (31-41) in the playoff scuffling that'll likely go right down to the wire in the next week. Detroit has six games remaining, Cincinnati four and the Pistons have an all-important two-game edge in the losing column.

Philadelphia, with Wilt Chamberlain scoring 47 points, rallied to beat Syracuse 123-116 in Friday night's only other game. Both were in a doubleheader at Hershey, Pa.

Bowling Scores

Eria Burrier rolled a high single series of 533 to lead all women in the Ladies Buckeye League at the Timberlakes Friday night. Other highs in the distaff league went to Darlene Felton 530, Ruth May 528, Wanda Wilson 524, Olive Ramsey 513, Erma Rapp 509, and Lois Longanecker 504. Wanda Wilson had the high individual game with a 202.

High team series and series single went to the Gray Motors team with scores of 2,488 and 863 respectively.

In the Men's Pastime League, Leroy Young's 216 game helped him to a 596 series, both high for the night.

Other big series went to Russ Stallsmith 572, Jack Stallsmith 563, Stu Young 5562, Paul Shone 558, Chappy Woolf 549, Ed Barch 539 and Paul Garrett 529.

The Reds Cab 2 team had the high team series with 2,612 pins, and the high team single with a 893.

William and Mary Blasts W. Virginia

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

By all odds, Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeyes should beat Michigan State tonight, wrap up the Big Ten championship, and move within one victory of an unbeaten season.

But then anything can happen in college basketball.

The unexpected happened to West Virginia Friday night. The eighth-ranked Mountaineers, winners of the Southern Conference title the past six years, were knocked off by William and Mary 88-76 in the semifinals of the conference's championship tournament. It was one of the major upsets of the campaign.

West Virginia went into the game boasting a 13-game winning streak and a 23-3 record. William and Mary, which never has won a Southern crown, was only 13-9.

By the time the firing is over tonight, William and Mary will know whether it or George Washington, surprise 94-87 conqueror of the Citadel in the other Southern semifinals, will qualify for the NCAA tournament. It also will be an important day for Bradley, Kentucky, Vanderbilt, New Mexico State, Morehead, Princeton, Wake Forest, Duke and several other teams whose tournament hopes rest on the outcome of pivotal games on this final big week-end of the season.

If Ohio State (22-0) gets past Michigan State, it need only whip Illinois next Saturday to become the first major team since North Carolina in 1957, to go through a regular season unbeaten. The Buckeyes defeated Michigan State 83-68 on the Spartans' court Feb. 11.

Bradley meets St. Louis in a National TV game, and if the Peoria, Ill., Braves win, they'll force a play-off for the Missouri Valley title with Cincinnati. The Bearcats have completed their league schedule with a 10-2 mark. Bradley is 9-2. The champion will move into the NCAA tournament and the runner-up to the NIT.

Vanderbilt meets Georgia Tech and Kentucky is at Tennessee in the Southeastern Conference. Should Vandy and the Wildcats win (both are 9-4), it would take tie for the crown by whipping Pacific (Calif.) 76-59. Loyola can take it all by beating Pepperdine next Tuesday.

Top-seeded Wake Forest and Duke will battle it out for the Atlantic Conference title. Each won semifinal games in the league's championship tournament Friday night, Wake Forest by 98-76 over Maryland and the Blue Devils 92-75 over South Carolina.

Wake Forest got a 34-point performance from Hugh Len Chappell in coming within three points of tying the tournament record. It was also the highest score run up on a Maryland team. Sophomore Art Heyman led Duke with 32 points as the Blue Devils' height and hustle carried them past South Carolina.

THERE'S ONE sculptress who doesn't care if anyone tosses one of her statues off a cliff. Katherine Stubergh, of Hollywood, Calif., is a creative sculptress working in wax. Major part of her business is modeling the life-sized wax figures of movie stars, which studios substitute for the real ones in dangerous sequences. In addition, she creates tableaux of religious settings for church groups. Her latest work, a copy of the "Last Supper," cost $20,000 and was made for Texas oilman William Fleming. It's on display at a seminary.

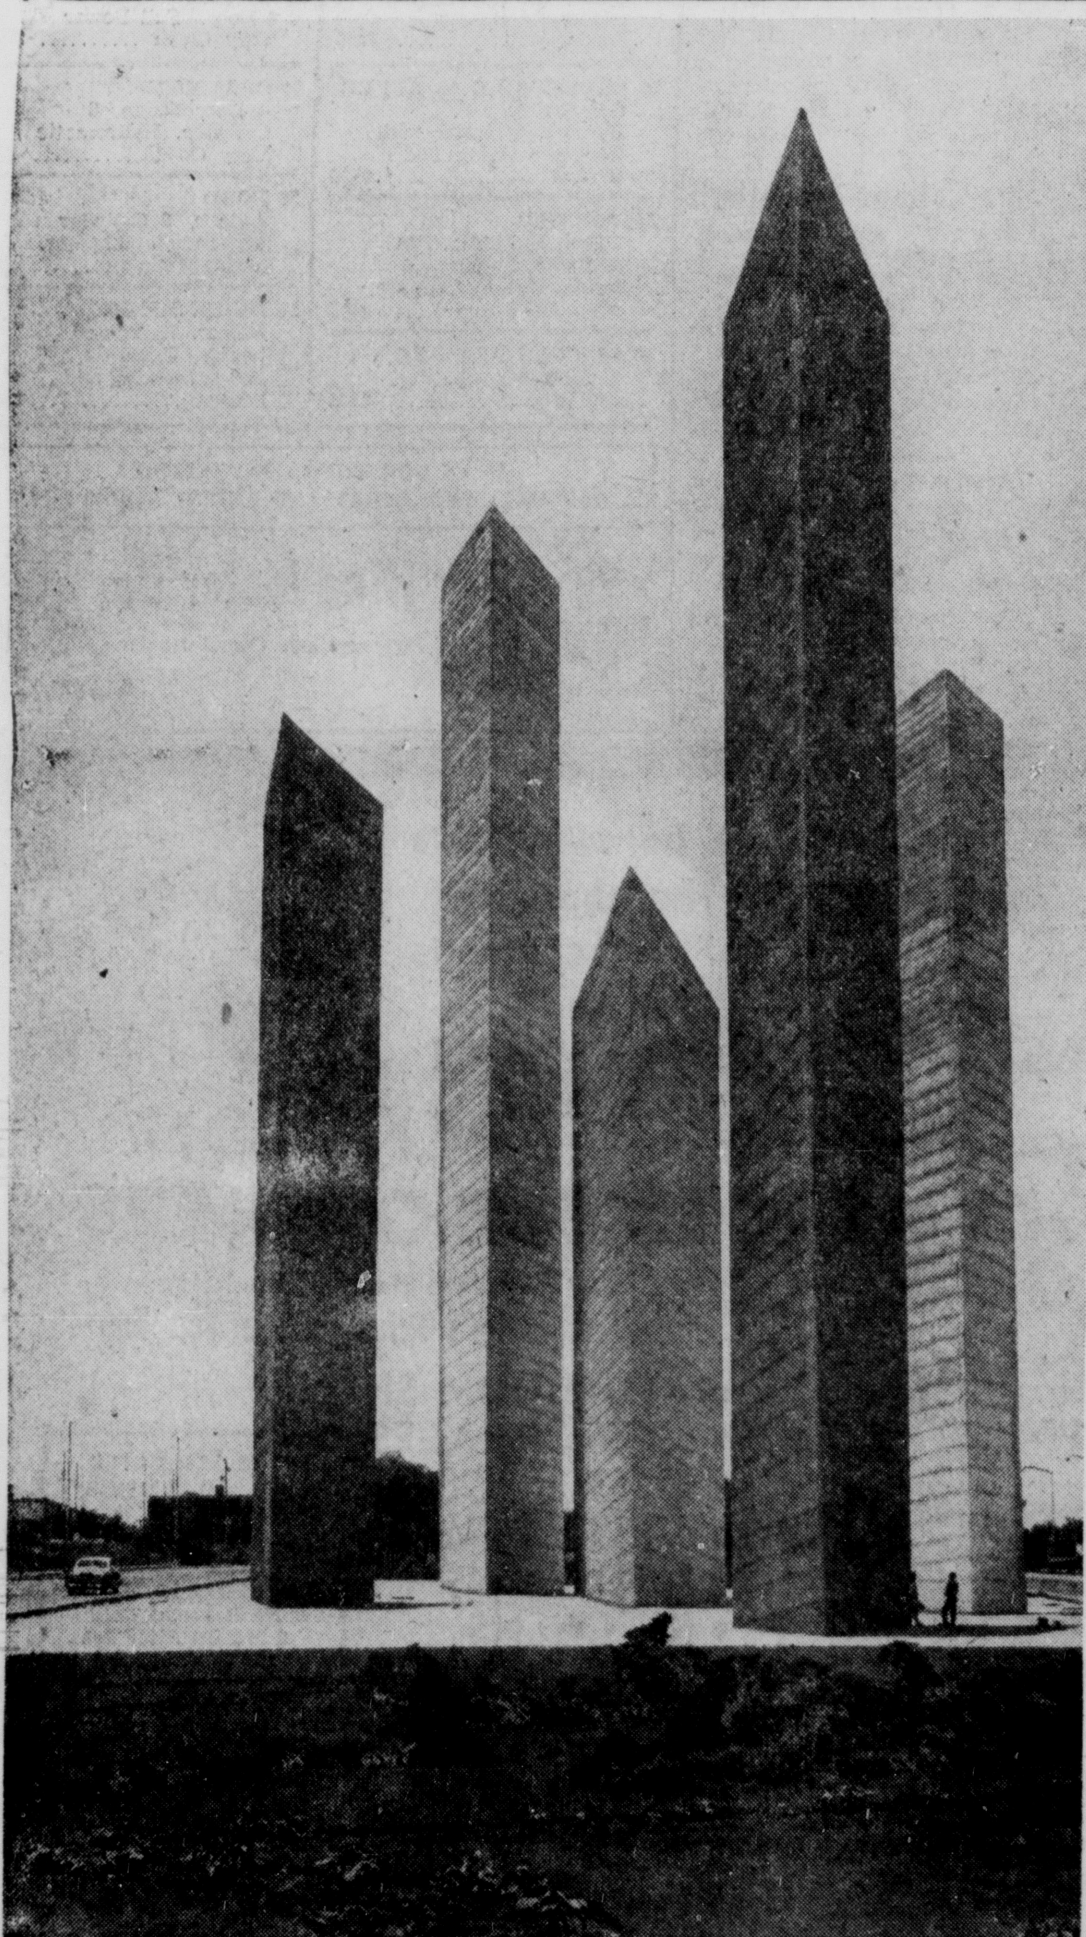

Miss Stubergh paints one of her models.

"The Last Supper" shows the detail which Miss Stubergh puts into her masterpieces. A project like this one represents a full year of work.

Columbiana Jaycees Obtain $1,130 For Heart Fund Drive

COLUMBIANA — A compilation of returns to date in the local 1961 Heart Fund campaign, reported by Atty. Lawrence Stacey, drive chairman, shows approximately $1,130 in hand. The chairman is hopeful that belated returns will push the total to near or above last year's collections of $1,275.

Stacey said a house-to-house canvass conducted last Sunday by the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce, aided by high school students, produced $633. The balance resulted from a postal solicitation conducted at the first part of February.

MRS. SARAH L. HUNTT, president of the Columbiana Republican Women's Club, is among the contingent of Ohioans scheduled to arrive in Washington Sunday for the ninth annual Republican women's conference. The meeting will include three days of political work sessions and special events.

Pandora Rebekah Lodge members will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the lodge hall.

AN ASSORTMENT of 21 awards was passed out at the recent "Blue and Gold" banquet of Cub Scout Pack 69. Distributed by Lee Bricker, awards committeeman, the honors went to:

Bobby Hum, Stephen Hill, Ray Extea and Arthur Exten, silver arrow; Dale Williams, Alan Eckert, Bobby Hum and Jimmy Powers, gold arrow; Gregg Gustafson and Bobby Eckhardt, Webelos badge; Bobby Eckhardt, Lion badge; Mike Bricker, Bobby Hum and Jimmy Powers, Bear badge; David McGuckin and Bobby Eckhardt, two-year service pin, and David Holderread, Bruce Biesheit, Gary Burt, Bobby Hum and Dickie Bott, one-year service pins.

Van Redpath is program chairman for the Rotary Club meeting Monday evening when the speaker, employment supervisor for the Packard Electric Co. of Warren, will discuss "Women in Industry."

TWO COLUMBIANA students have been named to the dean's list at Baldwin-Wallace College for scholastic achievement. It was the fifth time that William Longworth, a junior and son of the Rev. and Mrs. William Longworth of 15 Pittsburgh St., made the list, and the third time for Miss Suzanne Nelson, a senior English major and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. Harold Nelson of 332 N. Main St.

AN OPEN RECEPTION will be held Sunday for the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dean Wingard, to be held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of 107 W. Park Ave.

A recent guest in the home of Mrs. Edna Diehl was Mrs. Eliza Smith of Warren.

Miss Autumn Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hoover, has been initiated into Alpha Xi Delta sorority at Mount Union College. She is a freshman majoring in chemistry and French.

Mrs. Arley Bartholow has arrived in Heidelberg, Germany, to join her husband who is stationed there with the U.S. Army. She is the former Darlene Kitchen.

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Barnes and two children expect to leave this weekend for Cherry Point, N.C., his new assignment with the Marines.

Nineteen women attended the second meeting to learn chair caning at the C. C. Grangers home, south of town. Another all day session will be held Tuesday at the same place.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Burdell Heck Tuesday in Salem City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray are the parents of a son born Thursday at City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Edger Holloway of Fairfield were guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calvin, honoring Mrs. Calvin's birthday.

G. Charles Fisher, who served for 26 years as village councilman in Columbiana, retiring in 1959, has filed as a candidate for Fairfield Township trustee.

Robert A. Maurer is a new member of the Board of Trustees of Salem City Hospital Association, elected at the annual meeting last Monday. Another local resident on the board is Clyde Barrow.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Crouse and Miss Jacquelyn Ann Sittler, two Columbiana women are members of the latest class to begin training at the Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing in Salem.

Five Young Drivers Deprived of Licenses

LISBON — Driving permits of five young motorists were suspended at traffic court hearings at the Courthouse this week.

Losing licenses were: Otto Lendell Daube, 17, of 426 Arch St., Salem, 10 days, Edward Paul Tressler, 16, North Georgetown, 30 days, and William J. Macchoine, 17, of Youngstown, 30 days, all for speeding; Warren W. Andrews, 17, East Palestine RD 2, 15 days for improper turn, and Charles Bailey, 17, Smiths Ferry RD 1, 20 days for driving left of center.

All were cited by the State Highway Patrol except Daube who was cited by Salem police.

FINED BY COUNTY JUDGE

LISBON — Lester J. Fulk, 28, of Greentown was fined $20 and costs Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after he pleaded guilty to reckless operation. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Legion Group At Leetonia Plans Events

LEETONIA — The American Legion Auxiliary met Wednesday evening when plans were made to entertain the Girl Scouts, Leaders and members of the Committee March 15 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Plans were made for a birthday dinner and dance for members of the American Legion and Auxiliary to be held March 11 at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion Home.

The next regular meeting will be held March 22 which will be a joint session with members of the American Legion.

FRINEDLY CLASS of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet at the church Monday evening, with Mrs. Louis Hoffman as hostess. The Lutheran Church Council will meet Tuesday at the church.

'Symbols of the Church' will be the sermon by the Rev. Robert Ferguson at the 10 a.m. Sunday service at the Methodist Church.

Monthly Family Night supper will be sponsored by the Youth Bible Class Sunday evening at 6. Weekly Lenten service is Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Unity Class will meet at the church Thursday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scott as hosts.

Fliers

When the Soviets fired, Olmstead activated the RB47's automatically controlled cannons. Weapons of this kind are radar controlled and fire as soon as they fasten on a target after being activated. Whether the MIG was hit was not known, the two fliers said.

Other Air Force sources said it was possible the missiles from the Soviet plane passed through the fuselage of the RB47 where three missing airmen — Capt. Eugene Posa, 1st Lt. Dean Phillips and 1st Lt. Oscar L. Goforth — were stationed.

Suffered From Back Injury

Although Olmstead said he saw three other parachutes on his descent, he said he was suffering from a back injury sustained in his ejection from the plane and blacked out several times during the descent, regaining complete consciousness only when he hit the city water.

They say he could have been mistaken in the number of parachutes he saw. McKone said he saw only two. Each agreed one of the chutes they saw was that of the other. A third parachute possibly was that of the aircraft commander, Maj. Willard G. Palm, who was killed. His body was returned to this country.

McKone and Olmstead spent six hours in individual rubber rafts in the rough Arctic Sea before they were picked up by a Soviet trawler.

Anthony Brant of 650 Cherry St., who underwent surgery at Salem City Hospital earlier this week, is improving.

SCOUT GROUP TO MEET

LISBON — The monthly Boy Scout Shawnee District Committee meeting will be held Wednesday at the Old Stone House at Camp McKinley beginning at 7:30 p.m. Thomas Starkey of Salem, District chairman, will be in charge.

MASTER FISH CATCHER — Twelve million fish a year should satisfy any angler but for the operators of the Delta Mendota Canal in California's Central Valley it's all catching and no eating. Fish kept fouling the irrigation canal's pumps and the Tracy Fish Collecting Facility was built to keep them out. The canal's waters normally flow north toward the San Francisco Bay area and fish instinctively swim seaward, too. Periodically though, the Tracy pumps at the head of the canal are reversed and water flows south, towards Fresno, confusing the fish who think they're bound downstream with the current. The fish are drawn into huge holding tanks, transferred to tank trucks, carted downstream and dumped at Antioch, near the sea. The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation figures its fish-eliminator savings in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The next planning meeting is March 20 at the home of Mrs. Frank Julian.

Hanna Is Named to Hospital Study Group

A. R. Hanna, administrator of the Central Clinic and Hospital, will serve as chairman of a special committee planning a hospital study of units in the Eastern Ohio Hospital Council. The council includes 20 hospitals in nine counties.

A management type survey will be conducted to provide a more valid comparison of the different hospital operations since it would take into consideration the variables in different hospitals such as size, age, and design of buildings, available equipment and organization. Participate is voluntary on the part of the hospitals.

Other awards were: Best project by girl (biology, birds) by Carol Houser.

Best project by boy (topic, Geiger counter) by Ronnie Knight.

The New Waterford bank gave plaques to these two.

General science: Tie for first, Gloria Conkle and Beverly Dodge; second, Judy Cope and Linda Burt.

Biology: Tie for first, Joyce Rupert and Trudy Weber; second, tie, Carol Welsh and Lorre Weber; third, Judy Omslaer; fourth, tie, Sandy Patrone and Kenneth Holloway; fifth, tie, Linda Crowl and Ronnie Hall.

Physics: First, tie, Earl Wolfgang and Jim Zeigler; second, Ralph Wisler.
